

Orchid Health MA Job Description

Work for a small, innovative primary care clinic where you will be a valued part of a collaborative clinical team!

Orchid Health is a certified Rural Health Clinic located in Estacada, OR, which is a 45-minute drive east of Portland. We believe that team-based care, including advanced roles for our Medical Assistants, is crucial in order to meet the needs of our complex, underserved population.

In the role of medical assistant, you will work primarily with your assigned provider and will have additional time to carry out chart scrubs, lead morning huddles, conduct care coordination activities, and serve as an MA float when your provider is not in the office. This position offers the opportunity to expand your professional MA skills while working as part of an innovative, patient-centered team.

We welcome applicants who fit the description below and are happy to discuss any questions that you may have before applying.

Required Qualifications:

- Ability to take vitals, draw blood, give injections (including immunizations), apply splints and dressings, and facilitate simple wound management under provider orders
- Knowledge of chronic diseases and related health maintenance and preventative care protocols
- Experience with Vaccines for Children program is preferred
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Technology savvy - those who are able to type 40+ WPM, have experience with rapid testing machine use, and experience with EHR systems are preferred
- Efficient, accurate work is required

Cultural Qualifications:

- Successful applicants will possess genuine empathy for others and the belief that every patient is capable and able to affect change in their personal care plan
- Team player attitude and consistent professionalism
- Interpersonal skills - successful applicants are those who enjoy building relationships by listening well, asking questions, and helping patients to find their own answers

Experience and Certifications:

- Minimum of one full year of experience in a primary care office
- Current national certification for medical assistant preferred
- Current BLS (Basic Life Support) certification required at date of hire
- Background check will be performed

Compensation:

- depending on experience, skills, and cultural fit.
- Benefits include health/dental/vision insurance, PTO, CME stipend, plus a number of other fringe benefits
